IRA Qualified Charitable Distribution

Information for your IRA custodian

If you are age 70½ or older, you can transfer up to $105,000 per year directly from your IRA to a qualified charity. The transfer is excluded from your taxable income and counts toward your required minimum distribution. ACBVI qualifies.

Important: The distribution must go directly from your IRA custodian to ACBVI. Do not withdraw the funds yourself and then donate — that process does not qualify for the tax exclusion.

What to Give Your Custodian

Provide this sheet to your IRA custodian or financial institution when requesting a QCD.

Legal name	Alaska Center for the Blind and Visually Impaired
EIN / Tax ID	92-0108817
Mailing address	3903 Taft Drive, Anchorage, AK 99517
Check payable to	Alaska Center for the Blind and Visually Impaired
Tax status	501(c)(3) Public Charity — contributions deductible under IRC Section 170
Annual QCD limit	$105,000 per taxpayer per year (2024–2025)

Steps

1. Contact your IRA custodian and request a Qualified Charitable Distribution form.
2. Provide this sheet. The custodian will need the legal name, EIN, and mailing address above.
3. Specify the dollar amount you wish to transfer.
4. The custodian issues a check directly to ACBVI — you will receive a confirmation statement for your records.
5. You do not receive a charitable deduction on your tax return for a QCD — instead, the amount is simply excluded from your income. Do not also claim it as a charitable contribution.
